Award winning Film Director Josh Menning said, “I am excited about this film and believe it will deeply impact viewers. The amazing stories in the book will translate into an epic saga that will leave audiences raving. We are also pleased to announce that the author of the book, Tom Dutta, will be on board as a Producer in this film as well as John Smith, Producer of Song of the Tree Frogs and Gateway to Hope: Overcoming Heroin. I cannot wait to get things rolling as this will be a purposeful film that we expect will make a global impact with a shift in thinking across generations.”

Dutta viewed Menning’s powerful film Gateway to Hope in 2018 after meeting Producer John Smith by chance through their mutual New York based Publisher Morgan James. He was deeply moved by the film’s story and would months later meet Josh Menning and Smith on The Quiet Warrior Radio Show. “I am incredibly excited to be involved with this film and thank Mr. Menning and MENNING FILMS for believing in my story,” said Dutta. “Taking my book to the big screen is a dream come true. I believe this film will be unprecedented and impact people around the world.
